

The COVID-19 vaccine is not a factor considered in life insurance claims.

Amica has become aware of content on social media that inaccurately suggests life insurers will be considering whether an individual has received a COVID-19 vaccine when making decisions about life insurance claims.

Please rest assured that Amica does not consider anyone's COVID-19 vaccination status during any of our claims processes. Your ability to make a claim remains unchanged and is not impacted by your vaccine status.
